Key investment risks

Investing in Spaceship Super involves certain risks that may affect the value of a member's account and the ability to meet their retirement objectives. Consumers should consider these risks when selecting an investment option and ensure they are comfortable with the potential for negative returns.

The main types of investment risks associated with the investment options offered by Spaceship Super include:

- Market risk: The risk of declines in investment values due to general economic conditions, geopolitical events, or market volatility.
- Concentration risk: The risk of negative returns where exposure is concentrated in particular asset classes or sectors, particularly Australian and international shares.
- Currency risk: The risk that changes in exchange rates between the Australian dollar and foreign currencies may affect the value of international investments.
- Derivatives and counterparty risk: Some underlying investments may use derivatives (such as swaps) for risk management purposes. There is a risk that a counterparty may fail to meet its obligations.
- Index tracking error risk: The risk that index-tracking investments may not exactly replicate the performance of their reference indices, due to fees, transaction costs, or other factors.
- Regulatory and tax risk: The risk that changes in laws or regulations (in Australia or overseas) could affect the value of investments or the superannuation system.

In addition, the GrowthX and Global Index investment options are investment strategies that have a high investment risk rating (Standard Risk Measure). This means that these options carry a risk of high volatility and negative investment returns over an extended period of time, including potentially over the lifespan of a member's investment.

Consumers should read the Spaceship Super Reference Guide for a full description of investment risks before making any decision to invest.

Inclusion of insurance for the target market

Automatic insurance provides financial protection for accumulation-phase members - many of whom have dependents, mortgages or other financial obligations - while allowing them to manage their cover online and be able to opt out at any time.

The Trustee has assessed that adding automatic insurance is likely to be consistent with the objectives, financial situation and needs of the target market.

Appropriateness requirements

The Trustee has assessed that the Spaceship Super product is likely to be consistent with the objectives, financial situation, and needs of the members in the target market.

¹ Insurance cover is provided through group policies issued to the Trustee by MetLife Insurance Limited (ABN 75 004 274 882 AFSL No. 238096). The group policies include other subplans. Subplans of OneSuper are currently limited to Spaceship Super and Living Super.

² Subplans of OneSuper are currently limited to Spaceship Super and Living Super

To ensure this, the Trustee regularly reviews:

- The characteristics of members joining Spaceship Super;
- The range of investment options to ensure they provide competitive risk-adjusted returns in comparison to peers with similar asset allocations;
- The number, nature, and themes of member complaints;
- The appropriateness of the total fees and costs paid by members;
- The product design to ensure it remains simple and accessible for members in the target market; and
- The ability for members to access educational content about superannuation and investment risks.

4. How this product is to be distributed

Distribution control measures

To help ensure that Spaceship Super is distributed to consumers who are likely to be in the target market:

- Consumers joining Spaceship Super complete an application process that promotes informed decision-making by:
 - Highlighting key information about the available investment options, including investment objective and risks;
 - Highlighting key information about the availability and eligibility criteria for Automatic Cover and Voluntary Cover provided under the offered insurance arrangement; and
 - Requiring consumers to acknowledge that they have read the PDS, Reference Guide and Insurance Guide before proceeding;
- An assessment process is in place to reduce the likelihood of consumers outside the target market applying, including:
 - Implementing targeted questions during the application process to help assess whether consumers are likely to be within the target market; and
 - Rejecting reapplications within a specific time period where a consumer has previously been assessed as unlikely to be in the target market;
- Eligibility for Automatic Cover is system validated before cover applies. Members not meeting these conditions are not automatically issued insurance.
- Consumers are provided with clear access to the PDS, Reference Guide, Insurance Guide and Target Market Determination during the application journey.

The Trustee considers that these distribution conditions make it likely that consumers who acquire the product are in the target market.
